SLIGHTLY FUNNY.

"Why are you leaving here," asked the prospective settler, "if the land is so productive?"

"I'll be honest with you, stranger; I'm gittin' 'long in years 'an the plain truth is that the crops here is so doggone big that I can't handle 'em any more."—Detroit "Free Press."

Browne—Why do you suppose Justice is represented by a beautiful woman?

Towne—Because every man wants justice.—New York "Evening Journal."

"Yes," she exclaimed indignantly; "he kissed me by force."

"Oh, well," replied her friend nonchalantly, "it was all your fault."

"All my fault?"

"Certainly. If you hadn't resisted he wouldn't have had to use force."—Chicago "Post."

"Yes, sah; I desiah to enlist, esah. But there is one promise I want to exact from you, sah."

"Well, what is it?"

"I'm a Kentuckian, sah, and I pointedly object to being sent to the Dry Tortugas, sah."—Cleveland "Plain Dealer."

Hick's—Let's see. Who was the best man at your wedding?

Wicks—I was.—Somerville "Journal."

Farms Wanted.

The Clinch Valley Real Estate Agency has inquiries for three good farms, one of 150 or 200 acres, one of about 125 acres with good dwelling on it, and one of about 125 or 150 acres partially improved. The Rev. W. H. Weaver, pastor of the U. B. church, Dillsburg, Pa., recognizes the value of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and does not hesitate to tell others about it. "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," he says, "and find it to be an excellent medicine for colds, coughs and hoarseness." So does everyone who gives it a trial. Sold by J. E. Jackson, druggist.

Americans are the most inventive people on earth. To them have been issued nearly 600,000 patents, or more than one-third of all patents issued in the world. No discovery of modern years has been of greater benefit to mankind than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy, or has done more to relieve pain and suffering. J. W. Vaun, of Oakland, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in my family for several years, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used for cramps in the stomach and bowels. For sale by J. E. Jackson, druggist.

To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Chamberlain's Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

A TRAMP IN TOWN.

He Takes Advantage of the Alarm of Fire and Commits a Theft.

IS PURSUED AND CAPTURED.

Confesses His Guilt, Is Sent to Jail for Sixty Days. He Tells Where Stolen Property is Concealed and it is Recovered.

Last Friday when the alarm of fire was given, that the roof of Mr. J. W. Chapman's house was burning, Mr. James M. Kitts was at work at the Baptist parsonage. He had hung his vest in one of the rooms of the building and in the pockets of the vest were his silver watch and a gold ring. Upon the cry of fire Mr. Kitts ran to Mr. Chapman's house, and during his absence from his work a man by the name of Charley Marvin, who had tramped into town that morning, went into the parsonage and stole Mr. Kitts' watch and ring. Mr. Kitts missed them as soon as he returned to his work, and upon inquiry found that several persons in the vicinity had seen a strange man go into the house in his absence. He got a description of the man, and he and Mr. G. W. Doak pursued him in the direction of Plum Creek. They went several miles down the road and found no person answering the description had gone in that direction. On returning to town they saw a man going up the ridge just south of Mr. Jno. Brittain's house. They pursued him and soon took him into custody. He was brought before Squire H. G. Peery and confessed that he had stolen the articles and had concealed them on the ridge when he discovered that he was being pursued. The justice gave him sixty days in jail. On Saturday Mr. Kitts went out and tried to find his watch and ring but failed to locate them. On Sunday Marvin was taken to the place where he said he had hid them, and after searching for some time, found the watch but not the ring. Mr. Kitts in his search had stirred up the leaves and made the search more difficult for the tramp.

Quarterly Meeting.

We are requested by Rev. W. E. Bailey, preacher in charge of Liberty Hill circuit, to give notice that the 3rd quarterly meeting for that circuit will convene at Pisgah church on the 4th Sunday in May, instead of at Glenwood on the 3rd Sunday.

Thin Blood

Where the blood loses its intense red—grows thin and watery, as in anemia, there is a constant feeling of exhaustion, a lack of energy—vitality and the spirits depressed.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda is peculiarly adapted to correct this condition. The cod-liver oil, emulsified to an exquisite fineness, enters the blood direct and feeds its every corpuscle, restoring the natural color and giving vitality to the whole system. The hypophosphites reach the brain and nerve centres and add their strengthening and beneficial effect. If the roses have left your cheeks, if you are growing thin and exhausted from overwork, or if age is beginning to tell, use SCOTT'S Emulsion. Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion. All druggists; see and $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

FEMINE FASHIONS.

Materials That Are Being Used in Stylish and Dressy Costumes.

Bordered fabrics, by the yard or imported in robe patterns, are greatly in evidence among both spring and summer dress materials.

Very stylish and elegant costumes are made of the new material called drap de Chine, braiding being a favored decoration on the drop-skirt, overdress, and tucked round waist or open jacket. Satin-faced wools in heather-mixed colors of beautiful quality and generous width are very much used for skirt-and-jacket suits, tailor skirts to wear with various shirt-waists, and for princess dresses and redingotes costumes for traveling, shopping, and the promenade.

Circular-shaped cape-collars and pelerines, with and without scarf ends, are worn just now in place of the fur or beaver cloaks and coats. These are satin-lined and are made variously of heavy reppé silk, ladies' cloth, satin brocade, drap d'ete, armure royal, or of material matching the gown.

"Wilhelmina" yellow is the deep orange color that just now seems quite likely to become as much the fashion in portions of dress and millinery as the paler "Isabella" yellow became in days of yore. In dress goods are very handsome and novel chameleon effects in silk and wool fabrics, satin striped and barred bourettes, two-toned French diagonals, stylish camel-hair suitings, particularly appropriate for tailor costumes and skirts, tweeds and chevrons in 42-inch widths, and pin-head checks in many different color blendings in silks, silk-and-wool mixtures, and fine all-wool weaves.

The old term of "ready-made" has now become a synonym for much that is tasteful, graceful and desirable, at least among the handsome models offered by our leading merchants and importers. In the competition for public favor there has been brought to bear on the making of modern garments the very best talent and experience in designing, and finishing tailor-work, and the most refined taste and scrupulous care in the selection of patterns, materials and trimmings; and nine-tenths of the ready-made garments offered at our best houses are now copied directly from very high-priced models sent from Paris and London.—N. Y. Post.

MR. GLADSTONE DEAD.

The Grand Old Man Passed Away Yesterday.

Hawarden, England, April 27.—Hon. William E. Gladstone, ex-premier of England, died here to-day.

Mr. Gladstone was born in 1809 and was therefore 89 years old. He was a liberal in politics and a staunch defender of popular rights. He was several times premier of England and the contest between him and Lord Beaconsfield for supremacy in the affairs of England form one of the most interesting epochs of modern English history. He first became prime minister of Great Britain in 1868, but was for many years previous to that time one of the great leaders in English affairs. Old age and an enfeebled frame compelled him to relinquish all leadership in liberal politics a few years ago, and in the past year his failing health caused him to visit the continent of Europe in hope of relief, but it being evident that his end was near, he returned to his home at Hawarden Castle a few weeks ago, where he sank rapidly until the end came to-day. As a leader he was classed with Bismarck and Beaconsfield.

Be sure you are right, then go ahead. Be sure you get Hood's Sarsaparilla, and not some cheap and worthless substitute.
